We heard of a Scotchman who was told by the hospital doctor that he would have to have a major operation.

When he learned it was to be a "good sized job" he sent out notices to all surgeons in town asking for sealed bids on the job. When the lady of the house said she would like a horse, her

Dairy Leader Is For Bargaining On Dealer Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)-A New York dairy leader asked a congressional committee today to approve legislation that would permit farmer cooperatives to bargain with milk dealers on prices, either singly or in groups. Federal milk-marketing orders, which establish minimum farm prices, now require dealers to pay specified prices for milk.

John C. York of Dewitt, N. Y executive secretary of the Eastern Milk Producers Bargaining Cooperative Assn., told the House Ju-diciary Commttee that farmers should have the right to bargain with groups of dealers for pre nium prices. Farmers should receive the cost of their produce plus a rea-sonable profit, he said in prepared testimony. Eastern claims 9,500 members n New York, Pennsylvania, Vermont and Maryland.

In Utica, N. Y., meanwhile, the Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives expressed opposi tion Thursday to a plan for bulk oricing of milk at the farm. Mutual's board of directors said they would petition the U.S. Agrculture Department for a hearing

Schenectady Will Meet Bridgeport

NEW YORK (AP)-It makes no difference whether it's in the major leagues or the little league the home run pays off.

Two homers were the big fac tors Thursday as Schenectady, ew York State champions, and Bridgeport, Conn., southern New England's best, qualified for the finals of little league eastern regionals. They'll clash Saturday with the winner moving on to Wil amsport, Pa., for the start of the L world series Tuesday

Schenectady defeated Barre, t., 6-3 with Doug Wilkins, who started at third base and wound ip pitching, hitting a three - run nomer in the first inning to provide the difference.

Bridgeport eliminated Chester, Pa., 12-7 and it was Lou Cedrone's three-run homer in the fourth that broke a 5-5 tie.

Women's golf came of age in Ulster county on a beautiful day in August, the 19th to be exact, in the year 1959.

Only the temperature could match the enthusiasm of the distaff swingers as they marched through the final 18 holes of first annual Babe Didrikson Zaharias Memorial Cancer tournament, known in the record books as the Ulster county women's can League lead is down to 21/2 championship. The cycle had made a full turn when the last games, almost cut in half. towsome walked off the 18th green in midafternoon of this

During the ceremonies at which prizes were awarded, paeans shelved Monday for from five were heaped on the Ulster County Women's Golf Association, sponsor of the event, by several speakers.

Dr. William Bush, who represented the local chapter of the American Cancer Society, lauded the UCWGA and its hard working president, Mrs. George C. Rifenbary, for their remarkable record of accomplishment.

• Model for State:

Dr. Bush said the record of county participation in the Cancer drive was so outstanding that the UCWGA format was being sought as a model by other units in and outside New York state. He said Cancer representatives around the country were amazed at the manner in which the area women took hold of the Didrikson Memorial and made it class tournament, a beautifully run affair that reflected great credit on the county

A kudo is certainly due Mrs. Rifenbary for her splendid first-year leadership. This was the toughest year-the beginning-the innovation of something radically new for our women golfers. Nobody except, perhaps, Dr. Rifenbary will know how many hours and how much energy Mrs. Rifenbary put into the first Babe Didrikson Zaharias Memorial. It is to her everlasting credit as president that the first tournament was an overwhelming success, a forerunner of many bigger and better events to follow.

Co-ordinating beautifully with the president were the various ond place Los Angeles beat Cincommittee chairmen and their workers. They all deserve credit. It took the interest and devotion of many people to make the first Louis 3-1, and the Chicago Cube tournament the huge success that it was.

And when Arthur A. Davis had completed his remarks, assembled women must have known the late Sylvia Voss just a 8-5 defeat little better than heretofore. Davis paid eloquent tribute to Mrs. The Orioles tagged Latman (5-5) Voss as a woman and champion golfer. The headlines and stories and six relievers for 13 hits. he read, culled from clipsheets of the past comprised a factual Rookie Jim McAnany drove in tribute to that gracious woman who made old Wiltwyck and Wood- three runs for the White Sox, who stock County Club her home bases in Ulster county, but who had 10 hits and made it close with earned her greatest fame in Pittsfield, Mass. Like the year 1936 two runs in the seventh off Bill when she won 17 major tournaments. She was beaten once in the Loes after winner Hoyt Wilhelm finals of a major event by a then comparatively unknown young (12-8) was lifted for a pinch hitter golfer, a rugged gal you may have heard about—Patty Berg.

• There Were a Couple of Times:

We recall a couple of incidents involving Mrs. Voss, both of which have stuck in our minds through the years. There was the day we played in the same foursome with Mrs. Voss, Carl Husta (also deceased) and Joe Kwasney, who lives now in Florida.

A struggling duffer to whom breaking 100 was the great yearning of the moment, we toured Wiltwyck with this distinguished trio. When it was all over, Husta turned to Mrs. Voss and quipped about the prespiring sportswriter: "Do you think this guy will ever make it?" "Of course," she twitted back, "but he seems to have an awful time trying to avoid grounding his club in the traps." Matter of fact, we had violated that cardinal rule of golf many times that day, not having missed one, if we remember rightfully

There was another time when we admired a set of beautiful. hand knitted hood covers that embellished Mrs. Voss' bag. They were so striking we complimented her. Nothing further was said about the covers, but summer faded into autumn and Christmas Sox pitchers. Tom Sturdivant (1-5) t.ime rolled around. A package arrived addressed to us.
